

SUFFRAGISTS PLAN WEEK OF ACTIVITY

Equal Franchise Society Will Conduct Vigorous Campaign in City.

The Equal Franchise Society is prominent among the suffrage organizations in and about this city that begins this week to formulate plans for the organization work for the coming season. All suffragists are anxious to make this a banner year and to gain as much support to the "cause" as possible. The general lines of preparation being taken up by equal franchise societies are aimed directly at the voters, as in the fall the suffrage amendment comes up for the vote of the people.

To further these ends the Organization Committee of the Equal Franchise Society, 35 South 9th street, will meet on Friday morning, at 11 o'clock, at the headquarters to devise plans to push the work of the society in the various districts of the city. Branches of the society have been carrying on demonstrations and meetings to spread the "cause" during the winter and will take up this with renewed vigor as the spring approaches.

Among those who are in charge of the district branches of the Equal Franchise Society and who will be on hand at the meeting on Friday are Mrs. M. C. Morgan, from West Philadelphia; Mrs. F. M. Shepard and Mrs. William Albert Wood, Chestnut Hill; Miss May K. Fanning, Wynnewood; Mrs. M. Sweet and Miss Dille Hastings, and Miss C. Wacker-Smith, Central Philadelphia; Mrs. Harry Lowenberg and Miss Anna Hamilton, North Philadelphia; Mrs. M. F. Davies, South Philadelphia. Many others who are interested in the work will be also on hand. Miss M. H. Ingham, who is chairman of the Organization Committee, will preside.

Mrs. Deborah Knox Livingston, national chairman of the franchise department of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, will speak on "Votes for Women" at the Fowler Opera House, Haddonfield, N. J., this afternoon. The same speaker will talk in the evening on "The Challenge of the Day." Miss Esther Elfreth, New Jersey State president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, will preside. Mrs. Robert Irving, vice president of the New Jersey Women's Political Union, will introduce the speaker.

RUNAWAY BOY FOUND

Youngster Was Taking Dinner on Train When Caught.

Quail on toast, mock-turtle soup, terrapin and other delicacies concocted for the faded palates of dining-car patrons were rapidly disappearing before the onslaughts of a 10-year-old diner. The Pennsylvania Railroad officer who drew into Broad Street Station shortly after 7 o'clock last night. A white-clad waiter, with rolling eyeballs, hovered nearby. Railroad Detective Griggs stopped in front of the young traveler's table and gasped. "Are you Charles Colatan, of 324 West 19th street, New York?" he asked as soon as he recovered from his surprise. The young diner admitted that he was and demanded to know whom he had the honor of addressing. He lost all desire for desert when his questioner told him he was a detective. The next outward-bound train took the young man back to New York.

In New York yesterday Mrs. Colatan missed $37 from her purse. A few moments later she discovered that Charles was also missing. Five minutes later she telephoned a description of the boy to the police, and within three hours Griggs found the young runaway. He had come to Philadelphia to visit his grandmother, Mrs. Anna King, of 763 Gray's Ferry road, this city.

Found Dead in His Bed

William Dawson, 56 years old, a boarder at the home of John Hoskins, 563 Morton street, Germantown, was found dead in bed this morning. Death was caused by heart disease, according to the physicians at the Germantown Hospital.

Funeral of French Richards.
The body of Uriah French Richards, a pharmacist, whose death occurred at Montreal, Canada, last Thursday, arrived yesterday at his home in Camden. Mr. Richards, who was a graduate of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy, gave up his drug business at 311 Market street, Camden, some years ago, to become Canadian representative of a Baltimore chemical concern. He was 69 years old, and his funeral will take place tomorrow from the residence of his sister, at 418 North 2d street, Camden.

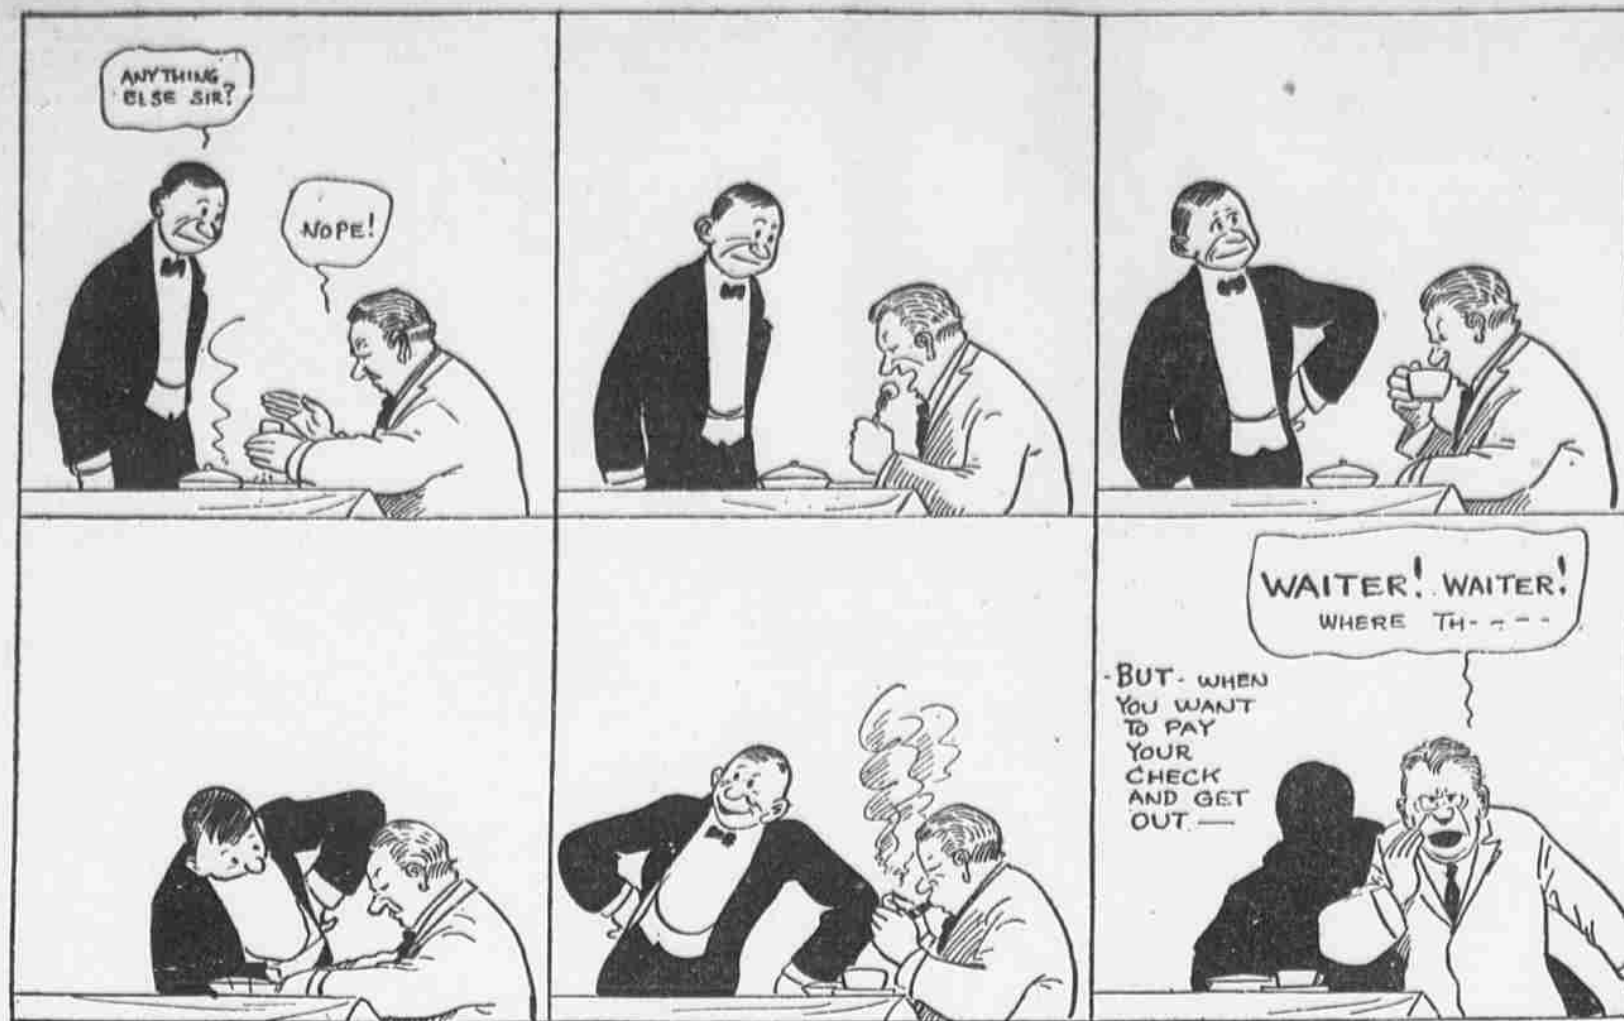

OBITUARIES

James Watson. One of the best known authorities on the breeding of high-legged dogs and a familiar figure at all kennel and horse shows, died in New York suddenly yesterday. He was 63 years old and had been in ill health for some time. He wrote frequently for sporting periodicals, and at one time was the sporting editor of the Philadelphia Press. As a lover of outdoor sports, Mr. Watson was a member of a number of prominent athletic clubs. In his younger days he was a champion at the sculls and a crack cricket player. He was first secretary of the National Association of Amateur Cricketers. For the past 15 years he acted as judge at the dog shows held in Philadelphia, Boston and New York. At the time of his death he was totally deaf.

Miss Josephine L. Borie died last night at her apartments in the Morris, 311 South 13th street, on her 81st birthday, after an illness of 24 hours.

Miss Borie was the last of ten children of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Borie. She was born on March 5, 1834, in this
